Francis Beager, severe wound on spine, hip joint badly twisted; John Switzer, badly bruised on the head and different parts of the body; A. L. Johnson, Conrad Alt, and Joseph Stauder were only slightly injured. Desperate exertions are being made to extricate the others from the ruins.

It appears that the foundation of a portion of the building which fell, had been settling for some days, and while the men were showing up a column in the basement to put it in place it fell on the new iron plate stone plint, which has been broken. The partition wall resting on the top columns in the wall resting on the top columns in the basement and extending to the roof, came down with a crash, bringing with tail manner of portions and about 45 feet of the outside south wall of the building. Everything fell inwardly, therefore no one on the street was injured. The part of the building which fell was 45 by 32 feet, extending to the inward court.

NEW YORK, Nov. 19. Mew York, Nov. 19.

Money—Duliness was the great feature of Wall street this afternoon, and business in all directions is on a very limited scale. The movement of currency to and from this centre is small and without perceptible influence on the market. The publication in the morning papers of Attorney General Hoar's letter to E. G. Spalding, in regard to the resumption of specie payment, excites considerably discussion among the bankers and merchants among the bankers and merchanis and at the Stock Exchange, and ads to distrust among money lenders. Commercial paper is dull and single his acceptances 10 to 15, and single mames at 10 to 25 per cent.
